Beyond the Next Mountain (DVD Bey)

At the close of the 19th century, the British called the Hmar people of northeast India the "worst" headhunters". It was a well-deserved label. In 1910, a single copy of the New Testament Gospel of John came to this tribe and changed the course of history for the Hmar people. Chawnga, the father of Rochunga Pudaite, was introduced to a revolutionary "new life in Christ." He and a few tribesmen "forsook all and followed Christ." Rochunga was believed to be God's chosen instrument to bring the Scriptures to the entire Hmar tribe in their own language. This is the story of his personal pilgrimage.
